Bobbitt's Record.

If there be any Democrats who think F. F. Bobbitt is a Democrat, or if there be any Republicans who think he is a Republican, or if there be any human being who thinks he is any thing politically, let them inspect his record, which we here subjoin:

In 1872, when there was a hot contest in the county between W. G. Saunders as the regular Democratic nominee against J. F. Edmiston, Independent, for Sheriff, and a contest in this Appellate District for Judge of the Court of Appeals between W. S. Pryor, Democrat, and J. W. Menzies, Independent, Mr. Bobbitt cast no vote.

In 1873, when Tate was the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, and T. W. Varnon was the nominee of the party for State Senator, and was opposed by Alex. Sneed, running as an Independent candidate, Mr. Bobbitt cast no vote.

In 1874, when there was an election for all county officers from County Judge, down, including Magistrates, and also for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, Circuit Judge, Circuit Clerk and Commonwealth's Attorney, a full ticket of Democratic nominees being in the field for these offices, and nearly all of them having opponents—two of them, the candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, having regularly nominated Republican opponents—at this important and exciting election, F. F. Bobbitt cast no vote.

In 1875, at the election for all State officers, from Governor down, a full ticket of Democrats and Republicans, nominees of their respective parties being before the people, this so-called Democrat, F. F. Bobbitt, cast no vote.

In 1876, there being an election for Sheriff, and A. M. Feland being a candidate without opposition, Mr. Bobbitt walked boldly and fearlessly up to the polls and voted for Feland.

In 1877, when there was a contest for State Treasurer between James W. Tate, the regular Democratic nominee, and Isaac H. Trabue, a political guerrilla, like Bobbitt, and when also Hon. J. H. Bruce was running as the Democratic nominee for State Senator, Mr. Bobbitt cast no vote and made no sign.

In 1878, when there was a full ticket of Democratic nominees for all county offices before the people, this remarkable statesman again made his appearance at the polls, and finding that there were five Democrats running without opposition, whose election was a foregone conclusion, he took courage and voted for four out of the five but seeing that there were three of the nominees who had Radical opponents, he recorded his vote for the three Radicals.

So the record shows that this man who makes more noise about politics and hawks louder and longer about political consistency than any body, and makes more promises and bigger ones to what he will do for the people if elected, than any body, has had the astonishing boldness, the admirable courage to show himself at the polls twice in seven years, and to cast his vote on one of those occasions for A. M. Feland for Sheriff, he having no opponent, and on the other occasion to vote for four Democrats who were already elected by the general acquiescence of the people, and to vote for three out and out Radicals against Democratic nominees!

Now, in view of this record, we submit the question to the voters of Lincoln: Is the man who has made more political fuss in the county for the past seven years than any other five hundred men in it, has, in all those seven years been seen at the polls only twice, what can you expect of him as your representative in the General Assembly? If he has judged five important elections out of seven, how many of those questions, about which he is now haranguing you day and night, will be dodged in the Legislature, if elected? And as to those he may not dodge, what chance have you that he will vote the way he now promises you? Can you trust a man who calls himself a Democrat and refuses to vote the Democratic ticket at 6 elections out of 7, viz: 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1877 and 1878, as this man has done, and who would doubtless have refused at the seventh one in 1876 if the Democrat had had opposition? We deny that he is worthy to be classed, either as a Democrat or Republican. It would be an insult to either party to so class him. He is a political pirate of the lowest type, and should be so regarded and treated by all honest men of all parties.

The Constitution of Kentucky needs a thorough revision. The slavery clause being a dead letter, should be taken out; the law in regard to the judiciary needs many and important changes; the power of the people to load themselves down with bonded debts that they can never pay, should be modified; local legislation should be given in the County Court, and sessions of the Legislature every four years would be amply sufficient. Elections occur too often now, and if, instead of every year, they were fixed for every two or four years, a saving to the State would be made of from $30,000 to $40,000 a year. There are numerous other reasons, but the above are enough to induce every thinking man to cast his vote in favor of calling a Convention. It is not a party question, as both the Democratic and Republican Conventions declared in favor of it. A majority of all the voters in the State is necessary to carry the Convention, and we would urge on every man to cast his vote in its favor. A failure to vote counts against the Convention.

Bobbitt boasts that he will not defend men charged with murder, and thereby makes a point with the law-loving and law-abiding who are credulous enough to believe him. It turns out, however, that the reason he does not is not from conscientious motives, but because no one is fool enough to employ him. After making a big blow here for the prosecution in the trial of Sam Holmes, he went to John Holmes, brother of Sam, and told him that for a small fee he would appear at Somerset for the defense. Mr. Holmes spurned his offer, and that's why Mr. Bobbitt continued in the prosecution. Is the man that would make such an advance honest? And do you wish to have a dishonest man represent you? Decide this Monday by voting for Gough—a man who would scorn a bribe, much less court one.

To remove the Democratic majority in the State and elect a few members to the Legislature are the hopes that buoy the Radical candidates for State offices. Should they succeed in this, Evans and the balance of the ticket will be given some fat government offices for their labors, and their object will be accomplished. Democrats who are for free elections and fair judges, do not let your apathy lead to such results, but go to the polls and vote the ticket from first to last.

Mr. Gough has fought his way along up to his present position by dint of hard work and honest exertions. He has conducted himself well in every capacity, as school teacher, farmer, County Surveyor, and in all the private relations of life. He is an example to young men of far better opportunities. He is yet, a young man himself, and the young men all over the county should rally to his support, and elect him by a rousing majority.

A WHITE man who would rob a poor old colored man of half his allowance for the support of an idiot grand-daughter, would steal a nickel off a dead nigger's eye. Will Bobbitt please tell how much money he "took" from poor old Shelby Owsley, while he was County Attorney, as a fee for getting such an allowance for him? And yet Bobbitt professes to be the colored man's friend. Sensible colored men will beware of such friendship.

Bobbitt says no rich man would run against him, and that the rich men set up Mr. Gough as a candidate, only as a sacrifice. In other words, to be beaten by him. Let the rich men rebuke this vile lie as it ought to be. Mr. Gough is a poor man, but he is a true and honest man, and the rich men and property holders are not afraid to risk their interests in his hands, and they will all vote for him.

To listen at the bloody shirt speeches of "Col." Walter Evans, one would suppose that he fought, bled and died to perpetuate the Union. Not so. He enlisted for one year, but got enough of it in ninety days, and returned home a battle-scarred veteran, and stayed there. That's the kind of a Colonel he is, and that's his war record in full.

Gen. Eli H. MURRAY, who recently purchased the Louisville Commercial, has assumed editorial control and promises to devote both his time and money to making it a first-class newspaper. Col. R. M. Kelly, late managing editor, is retained as an editorial writer.

YESTERDAY'S papers brought cheering news from the Yellow Fever districts. No deaths and only one new case in New Orleans, and one death and thirteen new cases in Memphis the day before.

Bobbitt appeals for sympathy because all the lawyers are against him, and some are inconsiderate enough to think him entitled to it. What would people of other occupations think, if all the farmers were against Mr. Gough? For oneself, we would come to the conclusion that there is something rotten in him. The lawyers know Bobbitt.

NEWS NOTES.

Ex-United States Senator, Reid W. Johnson, of Arkansas, a former Kentuckian, died this week.

A rise in the Ohio River set 8,332,000 bushels of wheat afloat, 4,702,000 of which are for Louisville.

McMahon & Green, experienced and capable contractors, are vigorously pushing ahead the Big Sandy R. R. Bridge, near Ashland.

A gap of only 73 miles of track remains to be laid on the C. & S. R. R., and it is thought that trains will be running from Cincinnati to Chattanooga by the 30th of November.

A severe rain storm, doing thousands of dollars of damage in the oil regions of Pennsylvania, occurred on Saturday last. The business portion of Petrolia was swept away and miles of railroad track destroyed.

This is a good year for newspapers, their number being increased in the United States from January to July, from 8,703 to 9,653. The rate of subscription is lower than for several years for the corresponding period.

It is said that the negroes who joined the exodus to Kansas, by the persuasion of designing Radicals, are longing to get home again, and all who can, are on their way back. Kansas, they find, is not the haven it was represented.

The Court of Errors and Appeals has reversed the decision of the lower court in the case of Mr. Smith and her paramour, Bennett, who were to have been hanged last Friday in New Jersey, for the murder of Mrs. Smith's husband.

Fairs.—The Boyle County Fair commences next Wednesday, and continues three days. The Casey County Fair holds three days, commencing on the 14th. The Eminence Fair takes place on the 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th of August.

The Mayor of Center Point, Iowa, telegraphed to D. J. Plunkett, President of the Sanitary Council of the Mississippi Valley: "The report sent ahead of our having Chelera at this point, is entirely false. We have a number of cases of dysentery, proving fatal only among children in their first and second summer."

Judge Harlan, a well-known Magistrate of Newport, has been arrested, charged with the heinous crime of rape on a little girl of eleven years, and held in $10,000 for his appearance at the Circuit Court. Harlan is 50 years old, and if the charge can be proved, Judge Lynch could come to the rescue very handsomely.

Hon. Ward Ballard, who was appointed Judge of the United States Court, at Louisville, in 1861, which position he has filled with honor since, died suddenly at his home, Tuesday evening, of heart disease. He was conscious of his approaching demise, and spoke to his wife of business matters, and the distribution of his property a few moments before his death.

Major Henry T. Stanton, editor of the Kentucky Freeman, is getting up a book which will contain a full and complete account of the killing of Judge Elliott by Tom Heford, and all the circumstances connected with it, together with a history of the lives of the two men. It will also contain a descriptive account of the trial of the assassin, together with all the evidence and speeches in the case.

GARRARD COUNTY.

Invitations have been received to Casey, Madison, Boyle and Mercer Fairs.

On the first Monday in August there will be an election at Buckeye for Justice of the Peace, to supply the place of S. A. Weaver, who failed to qualify.

The Lesson Review of the Christian R. R. on Sunday afternoon was varied by recitations from Misses Mamie Ferry and Lella Markberry and a song by four young ladies in concert.

Monday was County Court day. The loud cries of the stock auctioneer were wafted on the breeze, but there were no sales. The husband and family of Mrs. Fannia E. Talley, deceased, late Lusk, having declined to administer upon her estate, the court appointed Baylor Jennings, Jr., to that duty.

On the last regular service day in August the Rev. R. S. Fennell will preach his farewell sermon at the Methodist church. He has been called elsewhere, and will doubtless carry his superior talents into a field where Methodism has not been so nearly extinguished as in this community. For carefully-studied and chaste sermons, few ministers of the gospel can vie with this brother, and he will bear with him earnest wishes for appreciative hearers and successful labors.

On the 22nd inst., at the residence of Mr. Ephraim Brown, Mr. William Gray, aged 51 years, was the eldest son of Mr. Wm. Gray, now of Brackenridge, and was residing at the old homestead. He married Lavina, daughter of General Tucker, and resided in Louisville, a prosperous merchant, for many years. His wife died some years ago, leaving him two daughters. His vital relatives here was cut short by a stroke of apoplexy, and he now lies on his native soil.

An adventurous cow undertook to intrude upon an empty barn on the public square, when one of the horses penetrated a hole in the side of it, and thus adorned herself with a startling and unique head-dress. In vain she cowered about the thoroughfare thus equipped. She was not happy. A young gentleman procured a hatchet and tried to cut her loose, but each lick only "stove in" his fingers and increased the cow's alarm. At length a Samaritan succeeded with a saw succeeded in relieving the animal from a bondage almost as remarkable as the escapade of Mrs. O'Leary's cow.

The Hop on Thursday night was pronounced a grand affair, and lasted all night. For reasons best known to themselves, the Christian Aid Society deferred the supper advertisement recently for that evening. A number of strangers still lingering about our pleasant village on Friday night, an impromptu Hop was held in the Mason House, to the music of an Italian band. All of the surrounding towns lent willing feet to grace both occasions. Several of our young people went on Friday night to Crab Orchard to the Governor's Ball, but found that it had been postponed till after the election, so they danced with one of the high officials.

Henry T. Noel and W. McKee Duncan purchased at the sale of the late Farness Merriam's land a tract of 80 acres on the Stanford township. This they sold to the County Court for the erection of a new Poor House, for the sum of $2,500, taking $2,300 in cash and the said Poor House lands for the balance. Mr. A. C. Robinson, whose prosperous team silo joins said 80 acres, felt unwilling to submit to the purchase of such a building almost at his door, he therefore re-purchased the land of the County Court, paying $2,500 in cash, the cost, with the consent of Messrs. Noel and Duncan, taking back the original Poor House lands. They were the more willingly prompted to the exchange from the fact that a majority of the officers feared that the new tract was not large enough to make the institution self-sustaining.

PERSONAL.—On Monday the following named visitors were in town: From Danville, Chas. Rides, Chas. Lucas, Richard Gentry, Robert Salter, the Sheriff, Judge VanWinkle, Misses Abbie and Lillian Riffe, of Westonsville, are visiting friends in Lancaster. Miss Julia Craig, of Stanford, is at Mr. W. H. Wherry's. Miss Smith, of Frankfort, and Miss Jennie Lackey, of Newmarket, are at Mr. R. W. Lillard's. Mr. and Mrs. Fannell, of Cincinnati, are at Mr. W. R. Smith's. Mr. D. D. Bell, of Lexington, drove through town from Crab Orchard on Sunday behind a pair of beautiful gray horses. Mr. A. G. Lackey, of Lexington, is taking a holiday with friends here. Miss Mollie Hopkins, of Memphis, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. Dunlap, Jr. She gives an interesting account of the fumigation process to which the health officers subjected her and all other passengers from the South.

About the year 1867 John C. McCormack and his wife, Angelina, daughter of Wm. Woods, made sale to G. A. Lackey, of Lincoln county, of 130 acres of land at $60 per acre, and thereafter said McCormack conveyed to Lackey said land. Deeds were executed and acknowledged before a deputy clerk in the county, and delivered to the chief clerk for record. Of this land McCormack retained about 36 acres on which he erected a handsome residence and other valuable improvements, and conveyed the residence to his daughter, an only child. The wife died, and then the daughter. Upon their death the heirs of the daughter instituted suit against McCormack for the land. The land had been conveyed by Wm. Woods to his daughter, Angelina, in whom the legal title was vested. The claims of the plaintiffs in the action was based upon the imperfect record of the deed and certificates thereon by the clerk of the court. After a tedious litigation the Supreme Court of the State adjudged that the conveyance by McCormack and wife to Lackey did not direct the wife of title to the land, and awarded the land to the plaintiffs in the action, subject to the life estate of McCormack, senior. On Monday last McCormack purchased from the successful parties their interest in remainder in the land for $2,600 and a deed was executed to him for same, by reason whereof he has become fully vested with the legal title. This case is suggestive of the importance of voting efficient clerks into office.

The long-looked for Fair was ushered in by one of those good old-fashioned wet rains, no long unknown in this semi-arid locality that nothing but the universal soaking of the multitude convinced them that it really meant business. The beautiful woodland presented a spectacle of which the brush of the really painter might have made capital. The numerous relics of men wrapped in gum coats, carriage aprons and lap covers, or huddled together under umbrellas, the fine animals in the ring with glossy coats trickling the drenched musicians on the stand, the inundated booths, saturated dinner tables, and limp Merry-go-round, all presented a curious if not comical aspect. Young ladies with silk dresses dripping, and married ladies with soberer attire spoiled beyond redemption, and born the driving, petting sheets of water with unnumbered countenances; and this, in fact, was a singular feature of the day. Every heart went out in thankfulness for the descending floods. What were a few pailful yards of dry goods compared to the broad acres of blighted grain, the life and strength of thousands? So on this memorable Thursday the throng who had gone merry-making formed a staid band under the exceeding great discomforts of a thorough wetting. The managers of the Fair deserve credit in every department. All moved on without a disquiet note, and the numerous visitors were hospitably entertained at the laden boards. On Friday the sky cleared at noon, and the crowd was large. The gate receipts, etc., yielded a surplus fund for the stockholders. The Lancaster band acquitted themselves in superior style.

J. W. Goff, of Pine Hill, was arrested last Monday, on a warrant issued by Judge McClure, charging him with selling liquor contrary to the provisions of the local statute for this county. He gave bail in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the trial, which is set for Saturday next.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. James T. Adams, of Harard county, is visiting her father, Mr. M. J. Miller, at the home of Mr. F. Linton has returned from an enjoyable visit to his mother in Nelson county. His wife (now Miss Kate Welch) will remain in Nelson for some weeks yet. Mr. W. M. Weber has returned from an extensive visit in Illinois and Wisconsin. He says the Northern heart is easily fired by one wave of the bloody shirt. C. Crooke, of Pine Hill; Also Lusk, of Union Sulphur, and Dr. L. S. Burdett and Bob Humphill, of Breathed, were in town Monday. The "gentleman from Laurel" did not put in an appearance at the big speaking. What was the matter with your Dick? Mr. Turner had a big crowd to hear his speech at Proctor's Store last Tuesday. Great enthusiasm prevailed, and Ballard made lots of votes.

Last Monday was County Court day. Little business was done in Court. The Magistrates were present and received from the Sheriff the list of delinquents for 1878. The list comprised 28 delinquents, which was as small as could be expected. Mr. James Thonk, during his administration, was famous for being a close collector. Sam M. Burdett, deceased, in the case of Davis, Tribune & Co. vs. B. O. Gibson, &c., sold at public auction, four tracts of land under judgment of the Common Pleas Court, in said case. One tract of 170 acres, lying on Skaggs' Creek, was sold to Fechtner, Frank & Co., of Cincinnati, for $300. One tract of about one hundred acres, lying on Brush Creek, was sold to Jerry Handolph, for $400. Another tract of 30 acres lying on Brush Creek, was sold to C. W. Ping, for $72.50, and one other small tract of 6 or 7 acres, lying on same Creek, was sold to A. C. Snyder, for $20. These lands all sold at remarkably low figures.

Mrs. Thomas Turner, Judge C. W. Cook and John D. White, spoke here last Monday, to the largest crowd we ever saw assembled in the Court House. It was a regularly three-cornered political debate, and the average voter got his ideas terribly confused. Mr. Cook, the Greenback candidate for Governor, opened the discussion in a speech of an hour and a half, in which he declared himself in favor of an irredeemable currency—and tried to convince every body that they were to get rich by making him Governor. He was followed by Mr. White, who went through the usual form of abusing Kentucky and Kentuckians, especially the rebel democracy. He warned the bloody shirt with vigor, but excited little or no enthusiasm. White's speeches here have never sounded very large since Judge M. C. Steadley, of Glasgow, chided him up in a political discussion here in 1876. Mr. Turner was the last speaker, and he made a very earnest, telling speech. He showed the folly of the Greenbackers in looking for help anywhere but in the success of the Democratic party. He predicted that victory was perched upon our banners, and if we remained united, we would triumphantly elect a Democratic President in 1880. Mr. Turner's remarks were listened to with close attention, and we think many Democrats who were wandering after the money question, were led by him back into the Democratic camp. The best of order prevailed throughout the discussion, which was continued till 6 o'clock.

A Good word for the Mt. Asaph Hotel

LEBANON, KY., July 29, '79.
Mr. Editor: While in attendance on the trial of the celebrated Phillips Will case in your town for the greater part of the past two weeks, it was our pleasure, as well as our good fortune, to be the guests of the Mt. Asaph Hotel, which is a new one, having been in operation only a little over one year, and is superior in all its appointments. The table is all that could be desired, and the rooms are large, well ventilated, and comfortably and elegantly furnished; and we the undersigned, feel called upon to give publicity to an expression of our grateful remembrance of the kindness and attention shown us by the gentlemanly proprietor, Mr. Thomas Richards—able Clerk, Al. Hoffman, and his estimable wife; and most all, too; that our stay was rendered pleasant, indeed, by his charming and accomplished daughters, Misses Rosa and Jennie. We found the good people of your town, sociable and kind, and the Mt. Asaph a "home of a hotel." C. S. Hill, W. H. Harrison, S. E. Gray, Harry Say, E. E. McKay, John Wills, J. M. Caldwell, W. H. A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

In view of the advancing season and in accordance with special instructions from Head Quarters, and in order to make sure of closing out our immense line of

THIRTY DAYS

Preparatory to extensive preparations for Fall and Winter trade, we will for

FIFTEEN PER CENTUM LESS

Offer these Goods to the cash buyers of Lincoln and surrounding Counties, at than inauguration prices. Remember that we have but ONE PRICE and in every instance SEL FOR CASH; and each day's experience gives us a renewed admiration and a better founded conviction of the mutual advantages of this system to buyer and seller. The great panacea for this debt-ridden age, as concluded by wide awake and thoughtful minds, is to buy for cash and sell for cash in order to know your income and then live within its bounds, and in the near future will dawn upon our people an era of prosperity unsurpassed by any country on earth.

We would have our friends to know that we gratefully appreciate the flattering encouragement extended us in the present, and they can rest assured that the scale of LOW PRICES inaugurated by our house will be continuously maintained, and as we become more conversant with their special wants, every grade and class of Merchandise in line will be furnished and sold to them at prices entirely unapproachable on the part of houses doing a general and indiscriminate credit business.

What we ask is simply this: Stand by us to the close of the year, and we guarantee to usher you into 1880, with well clad families, plethora pocket books, and to put you to rest upon pillows, undisturbed by dreams of unfathomable store bills, sheriff's sales, and all these kindred woes.

Study hard to know the comparative value of goods, have the moral courage to investigate the markets thoroughly; estimate seriously the real worth of one year's loan of a dollar. Note accurately the astounding usury charged you for six months' indulgence on the part of the accumulating (?) time merchant, and awake at once from the flattering delusion—pointing you as unerringly to financial destruction as the magnetic needle to the pole.

In a word: Think seriously, act sensibly, and at once abandon the old and delusive credit system. Live over your downward course to poverty and want, and join the ranks of the lucky (?) few whose every step leads in luxury, comfort and ease.

Come to see us, and rest assured that no pains upon our part shall be spared to make you supremely happy.

Truly Yours,

GEO. H. BRUCE & CO.

FRANK LITTLE'S POPULAR MONTHLY.—The August number is filled with highly entertaining and instructive matter, and many of the articles are replete with valuable information—as for instance, "Rights in Southern China," by T. W. Knox; "The Lakes of Italy," by Lady Blanche Murray; "The Arms of the Medici," by F. E. Norton; and "The Metamorphoses of the Sphinx," which are admirably and profusely illustrated. "The Summer Amusements of the American People," The Race for the Blue Ribbon of the World," "Rings and its Rivalries," will well repay the reader. A new serial by the author of "Dora Thorne," entitled "A Golden Dawn," promises to be a story of deep and stirring interest. There are several short stories by M. T. Cahill, Anne Thomas, Eleanor C. and other popular writers; poems of genuine merit, sketches, etc., and a carefully selected miscellany, occupying together with handsome embellishments, 128 quarto pages. The illustrations number quite one hundred, and there is a very beautiful chromo frontispiece. "On the Fire at Louisville." Single copies are only 25 cents, and the annual subscription, $3, postpaid. Address, Frank Little's Publishing House, 33, 55 & 57, Park Place, New York.

LIGHTNING.—During the storm last Thursday night, lightning struck and killed a three-year-old filly belonging to Mr. Thomas Moore, of this county.

NEXT week the Danville Fair will be held; and, young man, if you wish the girls to smile on you, go to J. B. Denois and get one of those nice, new Huggies which he is selling at greatly reduced prices.

PERMITS.—Another picnic is advertised to be held at Hill's Mineral Spring on Saturday, August 9th. Feasting, dancing and good order are promised, and those who attend may expect a day of pleasure. Freely they who will come with a basket of good things, free to all, is cordially invited.

THE LOVER'S HALL given in honor of Dr. L. P. Blackburn, Hon. James R. McCreary and ex-Governor Stevenson and others, is fixed for the evening of Friday, the 9th. Sheriff Terrell tells us that he intends this to be the grand occasion of the season, and will leave nothing undone to make it so.

THREE weeks ago the establishment of Louis Cook, of Cincinnati, the largest Carriage Manufacturer in the world, was burned out, and J. B. Denois has some of his stock left over, which is bound to be sold, and if you will call in the next five days, you can get a bargain, as he is determined to close them out.

THE BODY.—By order of the Court, the body of Hiram Tucker, alleged to have been murdered by Tom Cain, was disinterred on Wednesday, and was found to be the same as the one which had been found in the hole which had caused his death. It was found by Drs. Peyton and McRoberts in the possession of the body, and is now in the possession of the Court. The body had been buried for nearly a year, but the decomposition was not half so great as is usual, and he was easily recognizable.

NOT THOSE AT THE.—Having announced on several occasions that Hayden Brothers were offering their entire stock of Summer goods for sale, regardless of cost, we are specially authorized by the firm to assure the general public that not one article is in store and for sale just as low as the Summer goods. If you will call at Hayden, now, you can save over twenty-five percent. In the purchase of many things you will need for Fall and Winter wear.

A SCAMP.—A man giving his name as Chas. D. Wright, Memphis, and who represents himself as an Old Fellow, has been deceiving the people of Clark Orchard. Pretending that he was a painter, he got several large jobs of work, and on the strength of them, obtained credit from the Herrin House, Myers & Drillon, and numerous others, for considerable amounts. Monday he lit out and has not been heard of since. Wright is a smooth tongued individual, 26 years old, 5 feet 5 inches high, and weighs no beard. Newspapers will please notice his modus operandi, and thereby confer a favor on the people of Clark Orchard.

THE PHILIPPS WILL CASE.—After a trial of ten days, was given to the jury Tuesday evening, which, after an hour's consultation, returned a verdict for the last Will that gives the property, valued at $150,000 to the heirs-at-law, two nephews, Ben Doon and Hugh R. Day. Able speeches were made for the first Will by Hon. P. B. Thompson, Jr., Judge M. C. Sawyer and Col. T. P. Hill, and for the second Will by E. E. McKay, Esq., Judge M. J. Durham and Hon. C. S. Hill. A motion for a new trial was made and the motion was given till the first day of the January term 1880, to prepare a bill of exceptions, with a view to an appeal.

A FATAL BLOW.—Henry Alford, a well known colored boy of town, died last Saturday under suspicious circumstances. Gunner James P. Gloude was notified of the fact and an inquest held, which resulted in a verdict that Alford came to his death from a blow on the side of his head from a stick or stone in the hands of Bet Fish, a colored prostitute, with whom he had been intimate. The blow was inflicted two weeks before, and although a post mortem examination by Drs. Peyton and McRoberts showed that the skull was crushed in and pressing against the brain, he went about as usual up to the night before his death. The woman was arrested by Town Marshal W. T. Saunders, of Clark Orchard, and lodged in jail here.

COURT CASE.—The Summer term of this Court commenced last Monday, with 141 cases on the docket, and the docket was cleared by the time the Court adjourned on Friday. Judge Underwood presided to business, but no matter of importance has been decided. Following are the cases:

GRAND JURY: W. M. Lacey, Foreman; W. C. McCracken, J. J. Doyle, A. L. Heston, Nathan Danberry, Alex. Brown, A. L. Heston, W. V. Carter, Jas. Taylor, T. T. Taylor, J. N. McCreary, J. A. Taylor, P. B. Taylor, W. M. Higgins, J. B. Miller, Fleming Thompson.

JURY: H. Heston, Foreman; J. T. Taylor, J. J. Doyle, A. L. Heston, Nathan Danberry, Alex. Brown, A. L. Heston, W. V. Carter, Jas. Taylor, T. T. Taylor, J. N. McCreary, J. A. Taylor, P. B. Taylor, W. M. Higgins, J. B. Miller, Fleming Thompson.

A number of parties charged with minor offenses have been acquitted, and no case of importance has yet been tried. The half a dozen cases against George Saunders were continued till the next term of the Court. The case against E. D. Kennedy and that against Tom Cain, were also continued.

THOMAS ENDS, for carrying concealed weapons, paid ten days at hard labor, and $25 fine. Josh Day, same offense, and same judgment. Sam'l Glock did not put in appearance, but a fine judgment was found against him.

Dud V. Holmes received the same sentence, but owing to the delicate condition of his wife, he was given a stay of judgment as to the imprisonment for 60 days.

Jerry Baker, for retaining liquor without license, $20 fine. O. F. Fenwick, same charge, two cases, $20 each. W. S. Dye, same charge, two cases, $20 each.

T. S. Hunter, selling liquor to minor, $50 fine.

Granville Leach, for keeping tippling house, $50.

John Benedict, for Sabbath breaking, $5.

John Price was fined $15 for killing a cow.

Thomas House, for obstructing public road, and for assault on Thomas Blackley, acquitted.

Bettie Hill (widow), was indicted for the murder of Henry Alford (widow), and her case set for trial next Tuesday.

The Grand Jury has returned only 13 indictments so far.

The Court will adjourn from this evening until Tuesday.

MONEY STOLEN.—On Tuesday, Mr. J. H. Hardin, of Monticello, missed $44 from his pocket while in company with Fount Young, and supposing that he had stolen it, swore out a warrant against him. Young was tried the same day and acquitted, there being no direct evidence against him.

ECONOMY.—During hard times it behooves all of us to practice economy, but in doing so we are not necessarily compelled to deprive ourselves of our families or ourselves of life. What account is money, except to purchase such things? Worthless as blank paper. By true economy, in meat, to take care not to waste our means, but with them supply our daily wants, and in doing so, buy our goods of such men as Hayden Brothers, whose motto is, and has ever been, "quick sales and small profits." No one leaves their store-room dissatisfied.

THE CLARK ORCHARD FAIR.—Scholar have spent a more pleasant day than the one devoted to the Clark Orchard Fair, for it was a genuine gratification to note the complete success of the exhibition in a mercantile as well as a financial sense. The stock, of which there were many entries, was hard to beat, the premiums were liberal, the officers attentive and polite, and the array of beautiful women and handsome men could not have been surpassed. The place selected for the fair was a shady and grassy knoll, and when the numerous tables, loaded with good things, were spread, one could feel that he was translated to a scene not of earth. Hospitality was unbounded, and as large as was the crowd, everybody was fed and treated like a lord. The stockholders, of which there were 100, received their money back and a small dividend, which we hope will encourage them to a greater effort next year. To President Chas. J. H. Barnes and Vice President Capt. Thos. A. Ekin, and many others, are particularly indebted. The list of premiums appear in another column.

DEATHS.

WIFE.—On Thursday, on Friday, at McKinney Station, Jesse W. Kiffin, aged 22. He leaves a young wife to mourn his loss.

STEPHENSON.—David P. Stephenson, son of D. L. Stephenson, died Wednesday morning, of typhoid fever, after an illness of three weeks—aged 21 years.

BARNES.—Tuesday, at 1 o'clock, Mrs. Maria Barnes, wife of the late Rev. Jas. Barnes, and mother of Mrs. J. L. and Geo. O. Barnes, breathed her last, after an eventful life of 94 years. She was a native of New Jersey, and came to this state some 65 years ago, and was one of the pioneers of the Presbyterian Church. Most of her life was spent in the school-room, and hundreds of the matrons of this vicinity, remember her excellent teaching and wise counsel. She was a woman of remarkable vitality, and up to a year or two ago, could walk two miles to church, with apparent ease; but for some time past, she has been confined to her bed, as helpless as a child, often not recognizing her son, Mr. Louis Barnes, with whom she lived. After a well spent life, a good mother of Israel, in "safe in the arms of Jesus," and it would be difficult to wish her back. The remains were taken to Danville, Wednesday, and interred by the side of her husband, whose death occurred about 14 years ago.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. J. L. Barnes will preach at the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock, next Sunday.

Dr. A. W. Wilson, the distinguished Methodist Divine, of Nashville, will preach at the Walnut Street Methodist Church, Danville, next Sunday, at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

Edw. W. Yancy, a Christian preacher of Louisville, does not believe in the usual revivalistic methods, and says sinners who about religion seldom cling long to the Cross.

A Chicago preacher advertises that his sermons never exceed twenty minutes in length, and as a consequence, he always has a crowded audience. Read and profit by this, ye long winded, who think ye are heard for your much speaking, and you will stop preaching to empty benches.

DAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Denny & McLean, of Glasgow, bought of James Martin, of Madison, 11 head of extra brindle mules at $110.

Six thousand sheep and lambs were offered at Louisville, Monday, and 3,000 at hand that were not offered.

In Cincinnati, white wheat is quoted at $1 to $1.05, and good to prime lot of red, at 95 to 98 cents per bushel.

BULL.—A. M. Feland is still standing his bull, 4th Duke of Oxford, at $5, and all that ever bid to him are able to pay their taxes.

TO SHEEP BREEDERS.—H. C. Jones, of this county, has for sale, fifteen thoroughbred Cotswold Bucks. Post Office, McKimley Station.

The Winchester Democrat reports sales of 152 head of good cattle, at 44 cents; 32 cattle at $21 each, and 333 head of sheep at $2 per head.

Carl Huguley, this week, bought of Mr. Bunter, of Boyle county, three carloads of cattle, of an average weight of 1,540 lbs., at $4.40 per hundred weight.—[Herald-Observer.]

Alfred & Snipe shipped to Cincinnati on Friday night last a car load of lambs, for which they paid from 25 to 35c. This closes their contract for the season. They have, in all, shipped about 4,000 lambs from this county, for which they paid an average of 3c.

WINCHESTER COURT.—A large attendance of home people; about 300 head of cattle on the market consisting of calves, yearlings and two and three-year-olds. Best sales did not exceed 35c per pound. Calves brought $10 to $15 per head; yearlings $22 to $27, according to quality. About 800 mountain and Tennessee sheep sold at prices ranging from $1.30 to $1.95 per head. Considerable trade in plug horses at $25 to $50 each. More mules on the market than has been for some time, but demand was light.—[Sun.]

LOUISVILLE.—The market for good shipping cattle is about the same as last week; $4 to $4.40, but lower grades are lower in price. Best butchers', $3.50 to $3.75; yearlings, $2.75 to $3.25; to common, $1.35 to $2.25 per cent. Hogs are not much in demand at $1.75 to $3.35 for choice to butchers; fair to good, $3.50 to $4.50; common, $2.50 to $2.75. The sheep and lamb market is glutted, and prices are a trifle lower than last week. Sheep, extra, 3 to 3 1/2; common, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2; lambs, extra, 3 1/2 to 4; common, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents.

At the sale of the herd of Short-horn belonging to the late I. P. Fisher, at the Boyle County Fair (transacted on Tuesday last), the following prices were obtained: Best's Prize, by 4th Duke of Oxford, No. 1,550, brought by Mr. Fisher, of Boyle, for $300; Prima Donna, by Sir Giles, No. 1,611, bought by Walter Hanley, Nicholasville, for $125; Duke of Devon, by Duke of Devon, No. 1,754, J. E. Brown, Stanford, for $85; Victoria 3rd, by Young El Hakim, 1,290, W. R. Burke, Danville, for $75; Victoria 3rd, by Imp. 2nd Duke of Wotten, 5,107, W. G. May, Lebanon, for $110; Victoria 3rd, by Imp. 2nd Duke of Wotten, 5,107, E. S. Montgomery, Boyle, for $135; Victoria 3rd, by Imp. 2nd Duke of Wotten, 5,107, H. W. Foote, Mass, Miss, for $110; Victoria 3rd, by 2nd Duke of Oxford, 822, Thomas McRoberts, Boyle, $95; Victoria 24th, by Royal Prince of Oxford, 2,651, R. Salter, Danville, for $110; Victoria 24th, by Royal Prince of Oxford, 2,651, T. F. Engleman, of Lincoln, $130; Victoria 24th, by Imp. 2nd Duke of Wotten, 5,107, J. R. Owsley, of Lincoln, $130; Victoria 24th, by 2nd Duke of Oxford, 822, J. S. Murphy, Stanford, $80; Victoria
